Local pastor charged with OWI

Iowa State Troopers arrested a local pastor for operating while under the influence Saturday.

Gregg Davison, 57, of Marshalltown, appeared through his attorney Wednesday after posting his $1,000 bond following his arrest.

Davison is a pastor at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church and is the chair of the Human Rights Commission.

Police also cited Davison for failure to obey a stop sign and an improper tail light, both traffic violations. His arraignment is set for 1 p.m. March 19.
